

Fence Consulting Disclaimer

Disclaimer:

The advice and guidance provided by [Jamie Danielowitsch / Ontario Provincial Fence Inc. / FenceLife Consulting] (collectively, “the Consultant”) is based solely on the information supplied by the client and the Consultant’s professional experience. The Consultant is not acting as a licensed engineer, architect, surveyor, or legal professional, and all recommendations are intended for general informational purposes only.

Fence construction involves tools, equipment, manual labor, excavation, soil conditions, underground utilities, structural forces, weather, and other hazards. The client assumes full responsibility for their own safety, measurements, materials, installation practices, and final construction decisions. The Consultant is not responsible for injuries, property damage, code violations, or project failure resulting from the client’s actions.

All local building codes, zoning bylaws, utility locate requirements, permit rules, HOA restrictions, and safety regulations must be reviewed and followed by the client. The Consultant’s advice should not be interpreted as a substitute for local professional services, site inspections, engineering assessments, or utility marking.

By booking a consultation, the client acknowledges and agrees that:

1. All construction work is performed at the client’s own risk.
2. The Consultant cannot see or verify site conditions unless explicitly stated and provided with visual documentation.
3. The Consultant is not liable for any errors, omissions, damages, delays, losses, injuries, or accidents related to the client’s project.
4. The client is solely responsible for ensuring proper tools, equipment, structural integrity, compliance, and installation practices.
5. Recommendations are advisory only and do not guarantee results, performance, or suitability for a specific purpose.
6. The client agrees to hold harmless and indemnify the Consultant from all claims arising out of their project or actions.

By participating in a consultation, the client accepts these terms in full.

OPTIONAL ADD-ON:
“No Refunds on Digital or Consultation Services”

All consultations, digital downloads, reports, and recommendations are final sale and non-refundable.

Time, expertise, and customized guidance are provided at the moment of service.

OPTIONAL ADD-ON: Insurance Report Disclaimer

Any fence damage assessments or insurance reports provided are based on visible conditions and client-supplied information. They are not a formal engineering report and may not satisfy every insurer's specific requirements.
